KELLY, DESPITE HIS ILL LUCK, CHEERFUL

W. C. Kelly was injured in the Cash Boy mine by a cave on March 31, 1917, and received injuries including a broken right thigh and a broken femur bone and a splinter of the same. Shortly after the accident he was taken to San Francisco by Dr. Grigsby and there placed under the care of Dr. James T. Watkins orthopedic surgeon, who performed a remarkable operation, the fractured bone being drawn together and two metal rings placed around it, which will remain through the injured man's natural life. After three months in the hospital he was able to return to Tonopah walking with the aid of crutches, finally discarding them about September 15. On October 23 he again went to work at the Cash Boy as engineer underground, operating an engine hoisting from an incline. On the morning of the 24th the car jumped the track and Kelly walked down the incline to put the car back on the rails. In the act of doing this he stepped on a roller, which caused him to fall, breaking the same leg between the ankle and the knee, the tibia bone being fractured. He was removed to the Miners' hospital, where he will remain for the next two or three months enjoying the hospital luxuries as the guest of the Nevada Industrial commission.

If any one thinks that Kelly is not getting more than what's coming to him call at the hospital. He will give you a joyful greeting, as he is taking his trouble philosophically despite his year of suffering.

ITALIANS CONTINUE

Russians and Germans which was noticeable some time ago on various sectors.

Near Iloukai and in the region of Kreev such efforts have been noticed. In the former sector scores of Russians who had gone out to meet the enemy on a footing of friendship were dispersed by the fire of the Russian artillery.

British airmen daily are flying over points behind the line of Belgium held by the Germans and dropping bombs on military positions and airdromes. Railway junctions have been bombed effectively, and explosives have been loosed several times upon the Sparappelhook and Hagel airdromes.

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, Oct. 23.—The Times says there is reason to believe the critical situation on the Italian front is receiving prompt and sympathetic consideration from the French and British, and that the Italian commander always knows he may rely on the most prompt and fullest support in the power of the allies.

(By Associated Press.) PARIS, Oct. 23.—The war office reports that Germans attacked and gained a footing near the Chaume wood, on the Verdun front, but the French counter regained a greater part of the ground.

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, Oct. 23.—A submarine attacked the sailing ship Fannie Prescott and took her in two after the crew had abandoned her.

final result," the department announced. "On the face of the returns it cannot be said whether the total exceeded $5,000,000,000. Contribution is general, however, that it probably approximated the maximum total.

"It seems certain that every district has gone well past its minimum and that several will exceed their maximum sufficiently to carry the weaker districts to the high mark in the general total.

"New York, Chicago, Cleveland and San Francisco were showing especially strong in the late returns. Chicago district chairmen have begun to feel that their total may reach the maximum of $700,000,000.

"Every state in our district has exceeded its minimum allotment," the Minneapolis district reported. "Many townships have sold bonds to every family."

"At last reports virtually every part of the San Francisco district had passed its minimum and many had gone beyond their maximum. Messages from the Dallas, Atlanta, St. Louis and Richmond districts told of great displays of enthusiasm on the last day of the sale.

finding food supplies for the peoples associated with us in war falls for the present upon the American people, and the drain upon supplies on such a scale necessarily affects the prices of our necessities of life.

"Our country, however, is blessed with an abundance of foodstuffs, and if our people will economize in their use of food, providently confining themselves to the quantities required for the maintenance of health and strength; if they will eliminate waste, and if they will make use of these commodities of which we have a surplus and thus free for export a larger proportion of those required by the war department now dependent on us, we shall not only be able to accomplish our obligations to them, but we shall obtain and establish reasonable prices at home.

"We cannot accomplish our objects in this great war without sacrifice and devotion, and in no direction can that sacrifice and devotion be shown more than by each home and public eating place in the country pledging its support to the food administration and complying with its requests."

U. S. SPENT

600, more than half, is represented by loans to the allies. These loans and the interest upon them are to be repaid to the government by the borrowers and therefore, do not represent actual expenses to the American people.

October's huge volume of funds paid out is made up as follows:

"For the army and navy, the shipping board, the aircraft production board, the food administration, the maintenance of domestic government, all machinery and all other federal government activities, $295,250,200.

"For interest on short time certificates of indebtedness and interest on the public debt, $2,458,798.

"For maintenance of the Panama canal, $1,523,962.

"For redemption of certificates of indebtedness issued in anticipation of Liberty Bond receipts of the second issue, $123,343,862.

"For bonds, interest-bearing notes and certificates retired, $200.

"For the redemption of one-year treasury notes, $5,057,000.

"For the retirement of national bank and federal reserve bank notes, $1,782,265.

"For loans to the allies, $44,200,000.

"Total, $985,342,287."

During the corresponding period last year, before America's entry into the war, the total was $81,026,865. The total expenditures of the current fiscal year to date, $3,446,553,764, compared with $331,238,313 during the same period last year, is an increase of more than 900 per cent.

Receipts for the fiscal year, including $513,108,572 obtained in payments on the first Liberty Loan and $2,029,222,000 obtained through issuance of certificates of indebtedness, total $2,542,330,572, or about $590,000,000 less than expenditures. There still remains, however, a balance of $547,071,940 in the treasury, the big balance of more than $1,100,000,000, the first of the fiscal year, the result of the first Liberty Bond payments, having more than offset the excess of disbursements over receipts.

AMUSEMENTS

RENO DIVORCE COLONY MADE SUBJECT OF SATIRE.

No brighter satire on the divorce colony at Reno has ever been filmed or played than that seen in "The Divorcees," which will be shown at the Butler theater this evening. The divorcees, both men and women, have fun poked at them from every angle by the players in this new production, and the life in the western refuge of the unhappily married is portrayed with all its seriousness and temper with rib-tickling comedy. The height of satire is reached when an eastern society girl, on the hunt for excitement, poses as a divorcee and becomes a leader of the colony, only to fall in love with a minister who is rabidly opposed to divorce. She, however, meets the man when he is playing at cow-punching and suspects him of being a highwayman, who has been terrorizing the countryside. So coupled with the delicious humor at the expense of Reno, the divorce city, there runs through the play a world of excitement and thrills from the unearthing of the real robber, the uncovering of the minister and the girl herself. This is different from anything yet shown on the screen, and from the fact that the scenes are laid right at our very door ought to be very interesting. In addition to the feature, the latest release of Hearst-Pathé News will be shown.

Tomorrow, Margaret Hllington, in "Sacrifice," and Wednesday, the seven-reel story of the underworld, "Come Through"—greatest crook play ever produced.

"The Sawdust Ring," circus drama, which was advertised for Thursday, will be shown on Friday instead.
